If all costs are not going to be trackable to the site, then why bother charging the OT to the site id?

That makes sense, but would not require two account numbers “to be set up” I wouldn’t think.
Just a site to charge OT to.

My guess is so that each division continues to charge against their regular FAN and only charges OT to the site.

What's the thinking in doing two account numbers (one for regular, one for overtime)? What's the issue that is pushing to separate those out?

Thanks,

Wanted to tee this one up for you since they are asking about it.....Trying to determine whether or not other Division should be using 06L ORG Code or their own (only within the region).

Robert, this is an issue that is going to take some more discussion. We are meeting at 2:30 so hopefully can get some resolution. We may have to enter 2 accounts for each non-Superfund person. One from their own division for regular hours, and another for 06L to charge overtime.

I'll let you know what I find out.

Thanks for your help.

Cindy,

The 06X timekeeper is going into Acevedo, Gray, Assunto and Fanning PPL favorites and changing the ORG Code from 06L to 06X.

I went back change them to 06L. Can you please notify the timekeeper, I believe its Joyce Runyan, not to change the ORG Code....Or do you want them to use 06X?
